

GLASGOW TIMES

Design & brand work across print, digital and out-of-home — marking 150 years of Glasgow's own paper.

PREPARED BY ALAN TODD
BRAND & DESIGN

ALANTODD.CO.UK

01 OVERVIEW

GlasgowTimes

150 years of Glasgow's paper, brought to the street, the screen and the front page.

Glasgow Times marked its 150th anniversary in 2026 with a campaign spanning out-of-home, digital and print. The work below covers the pieces designed for that push — a wrapped taxi touring the city, a roll-up banner for the paper's newsletter arm, competition and campaign creative for online display, and the front pages that carried the celebration home.

OUT-OF-HOME

Taxi Wrap

A full vehicle wrap marking 150 years, touring Glasgow and picking up press coverage of its own.

EVENT & RETAIL

Roll-Up Banner

Stand banner for The Glasgow Wrap, the paper's ad-free daily newsletter on Substack.

DIGITAL DISPLAY

Campaign Creative

Online display ads for reader competitions and partner promotions, built for web and app placements.

PRINT

Front Pages

Daily front page design and masthead lockups carrying the paper's identity into print.

02 OUT-OF-HOME

GlasgowTimes

A taxi wrap for the city's paper

Riverside, Glasgow — full vehicle wrap, side elevation

Rear wrap — "150 Years"

THE BRIEF

Take the masthead off the page and onto the street — a working black cab wrapped end to end, marking the paper's 150th year in a bold, unmissable way across the city.

02 OUT-OF-HOME — CONTINUED

GlasgowTimes

The wrap made its own front page

The taxi did its job twice over — once on the road, and again as a story in itself. Glasgow Times ran its own front-page feature on the wrap, turning the campaign into earned coverage.

150
YEARS CELEBRATED

PG 8–9
FEATURE SPREAD

